What is Magic?

Magic is probably the oldest of all sciences. It has been existing long before modern technology. In early times magic was not only used for what we know today as "black or white magic" but also as medicine. Shamans, Druids, Healers have been working with magic and the power of nature (plants, stones, fire etc) to heal people.

Those cultures who did not suffer from the Christian inquisition still today are very strongly connected to magic.

Magic is the force of moving energies to create an impact in our physical dimension. Magic itself is neutral. It can be used to heal people or to destroy lives. It can help people to become powerful or it can kill and destroy entire families. The person using magic has to know that he yields a very powerful weapon and that he has to be very responsible with it.

Magic is not related to only one religion or culture. Wherever we travel all around the world we will find magic. On all the continents and in all the countries people practice magic for several reasons. What is different between magic in the different cultures is the way it is done. All and nothing can be used to make magic. At the end of the day it does not depend on the tools or spells you work with but on the talent you have as a good psychic or healer.

What is black magic?

Black magic is used to harm and destroy individuals, families or entire groups. A powerful psychic can go through steel walls if needed to attack his victim.

Very often the practitioner of black magic is sacrificing something or someone for his rituals. The use of such rituals is very much related to the culture the practitioner is coming from. The one really understanding the power of energy flow does not need any ritual to destroy, harm or kill someone else. It can be done only by very strong visualizations and a deep understanding of the world beyond our reality.

In 1999 I published my book "Wenn die Dämonen rufen" (When evil calls), a book about black magic, how it works and how to protect. The book gives a very good insight about the power of black magic.

Where did black magic stem from?

It is known all around the world! Travel to any continent, any culture or any village and you will find magic power.

Magic is the science to connect humans with other worlds. It can serve to connect to spirits of people who died or to astral traveling. Those who are interested in such topics should visit museums of old cultures. Everywhere you go you will find sculptures or reliefs showing rituals and the way they have been practiced. Again, black magic is only one of the many expressions of the power of magic. Magic is like a weapon and black magic is the destructive way of using a weapon.

In the Middle East black magic is still very strong. Not only in the Middle East but also in Africa, South America, Central America, Australia, Asia and even the USA and Europe.

Why do people use it?

For as many reasons as you can think of! Are you hating your father because he left you when you were young? Go for it! Are you in business or politics and you want to crush your competition or opponent? Go for it! Your husband betrays you and you want to harm his girlfriend? Go for it!

I have heard stories in the Andes of Bolivia where farmers are doing black magic because they are jealous of their neighbor farmer because he has better and stronger cows. I know from Africa and South America where big politicians do black magic to bring down their opponents.

And you know what? It works! A lot of my clients are victims of black magic and it always takes a lot of time and effort to clean them and to protect against future attacks. Sometimes you can find psychics doing black magic and white magic at the same time. Some of them first sell their services to harm someone and if that same person who got attacked without knowing where the spell is coming from visits that same psychic he can do white magic to heal what he did in the first place to harm.

Psychic power can be a warfare and a very powerful one if you know how to use it. I have seen people becoming strong and powerful with magic but I have also seen people getting destroyed completely with magic!

How is it delivered and how does it work?

There are many ways to work with it. The most effective is if you can plant a receiver close to the victim. This receiver can be a picture, a stone or any other material you can bring close to the victim without calling attention.

A different way is that you organize something belonging to the victim. For example its hair, cloths or a picture.

If you work with a receiver then you do anywhere in the world your ritual and you send out the magic spell. Similar to radio waves those frequencies are traveling through time and space till reaching their destiny - the victim!

The other way, with a object belonging to the victim it works very similar. The difference is that you don't send the energies to the receiver but through the object to the victim. Both ways are effective if you know how to do it.

What is the price people pay for black magic use?

People who use black magic will always suffer from inner demons, and incurable unhappiness.

In Europe & western culture this is never heard of, and even ridiculed, is it real and a threat?

It is real and it is a threat. It is not true that in Europe and the western culture this is never heard of. I am from Switzerland and I always knew of places where satanic sects are practicing rituals to harm and destroy. Again, through the inquisition of the Church many of it got hidden. People still did it a lot but behind closed doors. Now as the Church has not so much power anymore people start to come out with it - again. It was never gone, only hidden.

Which parts of the world is this common practice?

Everywhere, on all continents, all countries, cities and villages! I have been almost everywhere in Europe, in the USA, most of South America, in Africa, the Middle East, in Central Asia and Far Asia. Everywhere I found black magic! No difference if in a Moslem, Christian, Buddha, Hindu or Jewish culture. Wherever you go, there it is the power of black magic!

Why is black magic more common place in some parts of the world than others?

It depends on how open people are for those influences. It is more common where people are more open for the roots of human nature and its powers. It is less common where people are disconnected from their source.

How do the practices vary in these different countries and what are the commonalities?

They vary on the tools, elements, spirits and rituals of the different countries. Each culture has its own technique. For example: In Bolivia psychics use Coca leaves to do rituals, a wood called palo santo or llama fetuses. Everything you find in the highlands of the Andes. In Africa's west coast, for example in Nigeria I saw them using other plants and tools to reach the same goal. Commonalities are the energies used to work. You are working with the same power, you use the same space beyond our physical reality. I have seen people doing black and white magic all around the world. The energy or aura of black and white magic all around the world looks about the same.

How is one susceptible to black magic?

Everybody! I know many they believe to be very wise and say that they don't believe in it so they don't get affected by it. Well, good luck! It is about the same like saying that if you walk through Africa's desert and you don't believe in Lions you won't get attacked by them! With magic work I can get to any person, anywhere in this world!

What are the tell tale signs of someone being the victim of black magic?

Sudden sickness, sudden very low self-esteem, heavy psychological changes in personality. If without any logical sign everything suddenly is turning to bad. If things over and over again are going wrong.

How can one protect themselves from this?

Positive meditations are a very powerful tool. Working on the aura to keep it clean and strong is very important. There are many shops to buy talismans and incense to create a field of protection. Most important is not to be afraid of it. It is same like with anything else in life. If you educate yourself and learn about possible threats of life you can prevent them.
